

"Redwood"

by John Welton

© 2001

I am feeling higher than a redwood
Birds are singing in my ear today
And I feel like every thing is going to be OK
Every day's another chance to start all over, start all over
Tonight (today) may be the perfect night (day) to start all over

And as I walk into this new day
I will count my blessings
Too many days like this done passed me by
I think I've finally learned my lesson

I'm feeling higher than a rain cloud
The sun is always shining on the other side
And I feel like everything's going to be all right
Even when the rain comes down
We'll go dancing in it, dancing in it
Happy the sun will always shine
On every minute

And as I walk into this new day
I will count my blessings
Too many days like this done passed me by
I think I've finally learned my lesson